

Birthday Party

Pam Lackey's 1st grade class at Greene County Tech Primary held a birthday party for Henry Wrinkles. Henry is the PAWS canine humane educator that has been doing a pilot program with the children to encourage good reading skills. The children had pizza and cupcakes, and then presented Henry presents to be distributed to the homeless pets at the non-profit PAWS shelter. Henry was once one of these pets before being adopted by former school teacher, Susan Boyd. The reading program has been such a success that PAWS was awarded a $1200 Grant from the Endowment Foundation of Greene County. On June 17 the children will accept the grant with Henry Wrinkles at the Paragould Light, Water and Cable Building and read a book that they wrote together about Henry.
